Our clubhouse, Egan's Hideout, is named after Chief Egan, the last War Chief of the Paiute Nation. Egan last engaged the U.S. Cavalry near Riley (50 miles SW of here) and was pursued 180 miles to a place south of Pendleton then named battle Mountain in 1882 where he was stabbed in the back and killed. This location on Paiute Creek was on the Malheur (Paiute) Indian Reservation then and we think it was close to where Chief Egan, mortally wounded, probably had his last campfire (the exact location is not known). Most agree that Chief Egan and the Cavalry (and even the horses) would sure have been better off here, sipping a Horseshoe Nail and making friends instead of shooting at each other!

In alignment with the Paiute Tribes' (and ours) strong environment sustainability ethic, "Egan's" is completely off the electrical grid and is powered by roof-mounted solar panels; water is gravity-fed from Paiute Spring (which is about a mile northwest of here); grey water is used to water the surrounding wildlife habitat, and; waste products are recycled in the ranch's recycling program. Please enjoy what Chief Egan and the U.S. Cavalry were never able to! Enjoy our signature cocktail – a Horseshoe Nail, make new friends, and have a great time! (And please don't shoot anybody – or stab them in the back)

Hideout Nourishments

Hankins Brat- Smoked Silvies Beef bratwurst on a sourdough roll with mustard, ketchup, ranch relish, sauerkraut, diced onions & kettle chips	14
